Going Hunting For First Time?

Planning to go hunting next fall for the first time? If so, now is the best time to enroll in a hunter safety class.

That's a timely suggestion from the California Department of Fish and Game because right now many classes are open — just before the big fall hunting seasons come around they are apt to be very crowded.

How do you do it? Contact your nearest Fish and Game license agent, probably the sporting goods store, resort or bait shop where you bought your last hunting license. He has a list of volunteer hunter safety instructors and will be happy to provide you with their addresses.

All persons under 16 who have not previously had a hunting license must take a four-hour state-approved hunter safety course and obtain a certificate of competence before he or she can obtain a license.

Santa Anita to Present 23rd 'Big Cap' Saturday

A star-studded, interest-packed line-up is ready to go post-ward Saturday when Santa Anita Park presents the 23rd running of its celebrated "Big Cap."

The great American sporting spectacle, which was the first continuing $100,000-added race in the United States when inaugurated in 1935, will get underway a half-hour earlier to allow time for the extra ceremonies, it has been announced.

The gates will open at 10:30 a.m., with the first race starting at 12:30.

The 'Silver Jubilee' Santa Anita Handicap vies with past runnings for expected competition, thrills, color and drama attending the gruelling and golden 1 1/4 miles gallop.

Interest centers in another duel between Bagdad (Bill Shoemaker) and First Landing (Eddie Arcaro); Silver Spoon attempting to be the first filly or mare ever to win the Big 'Cap'; Foreign-bred Amerigo, flown in from Florida to furnish international lustre; fast pace to be set by the sensational speed horses, Fleet Nasrullah and How Now; the question mark's on another import, Promulgation; the come-back of Royal Living; and the challenge of the California-breds, Linmold and King O' Turf.
